

Employee Leave Policy

Employees can apply for annual leave through the HR portal.

Employees are entitled to 20 days of annual leave per year.

Employees should submit their leave request at least three days before the requested leave date.

Managers review leave requests based on staffing requirements and the employee's available leave balance.

Emergency leave may be requested when an unexpected personal situation requires immediate absence.

Employees should contact their manager as soon as possible when emergency leave is necessary.

Salary Information

Employees can view salary information through the payroll system.

Salary information is updated at the end of each month.

Monthly salary statements include base salary, approved allowances, deductions, and the final payable amount.

Employees should contact the HR department if they find an unexpected difference in their salary statement.

Salary information is considered confidential and should only be accessed by authorized employees.

Payroll corrections normally appear in the next available salary statement after approval.

Employee Attendance Policy

Employees are expected to record their attendance using the organization's approved attendance system.

The normal working schedule is eight hours per day, excluding the lunch break.

Employees should inform their manager when they expect to arrive late or leave early.

Attendance records are reviewed periodically by the HR department.

Repeated attendance problems may require a discussion between the employee, manager, and HR representative.

Employees working remotely must follow the same attendance and working-hour requirements unless a different arrangement has been approved.
